WANTED: HOMES/STRUCTURES FOR EMERGENCY PERSONNEL TRAINING

Harrison Fire Rescue continually strives to provide real-world training opportunities for our personnel. We believe that replicating realistic scenarios in diverse/controlled environments is an ideal way to better prepare for the unique situations we encounter. The Department is always looking for structures to train in as they are potentially the best “classroom” for our members to conduct training simulations and scenarios.

We are asking property owners who may have a structure (residential or commercial) that is under construction, abandoned, vacant, or ready for demolition, to allow emergency personnel to conduct training in it. The two types of training include:

- Non-Destructive (search and rescue training)
- Destructive (forcible entry, wall breaching, roof ventilation, etc.)

We understand the importance of keeping your building plans on schedule and do not want to interfere with that in any way. We are willing to work within any date range that works for you.

If you are interested in providing us this opportunity, please contact Fire Chief Jarred Gerl at jgerl@harrison-wi.org or give me a call at (920)733-0421.

Thank you for your consideration, and I look forward to hearing from you.
